1. NIFTY 50 — Intraday Analysis

Market Snapshot

LTP 24,123.7 +0.46%	Day Open 24,106.6 Gap +93.5 pts	Day High 24,137.4
Day Low 24,073.15	Prev Close 24,013.1	Day Range 64.2 pts Early session

Market Context

NIFTY 50 opened with a strong gap-up of 93.5 pts (+0.39%) against the previous close of 24,013. The index hit a session high of 24,137 within the first candle. Only two 5-minute candles were available at the time of analysis (09:15–09:20 IST). The 20-day SMA stands at approximately 23,632, and the index is trading 491 pts above it, confirming the broader intermediate uptrend from the 30-day low of 23,070 (Jun 8).

Key Levels

R3 · Jun 18 all-time recent high	24,189
R2 · Today's session high	24,137
R1 · Jun 19 intraday high area	24,047
CMP (Last Traded Price)	24,123.7
S1 · Today's session low	24,073

S2 · Prev close / gap fill level	24,013
S3 · Jun 19 intraday low	23,902
20-day SMA	23,632

Technical Signals

Bullish cues • Gap-up open +93.5 pts • Opened above prev close • Above 20-day SMA (+491 pts) • 10-day uptrend from Jun 8 intact • Higher-low structure in place	Caution zones • Near Jun 18 high (24,189) • Narrow range so far (64 pts) • Only 2 candles available • Gap-fill risk if momentum fades • Broad market direction key	Invalidation • Break below 24,013 flips bias • Jun 19 sell candle still fresh • Volume confirmation needed • Watch 24,189 as hard resistance

Intraday Bias

Bias: Cautiously Bullish. The gap-up open above a prior distribution area (23,900–24,013) is constructive. However, the index is within striking distance of the Jun 18 high of 24,189, which is a major supply zone. A breakout above 24,189 with expanding volume would be a strong bullish signal for continuation towards 24,400+. Failure there and a close below 24,013 would signal a gap-fill and shift bias bearish for the session.

Price Story — 6 Months

Phase	Period	Price Range	Description
1 — Crash	Dec 2025 – Mar 2026	14,566 → 9,630	Dec 10 earnings shock triggered severe selling. Multiple failed bounces.
2 — Base build	Mar – Apr 2026	9,630 – 11,400	Mar 10 reversal (+11%, 2.03M vol) marked the low. Choppy 9,600–11,000.
3 — Recovery	May 13 – Jun 18, 2026	10,100 → 12,930	May 13 reversal (2.69M vol) triggered momentum. Jun 15-17 breakout.
4 — Pullback	Jun 18 – Jun 22, 2026	12,930 → 12,336	3-day healthy pullback (-4.6%) from swing high. Current low-volume consolidation.

Key Levels

R3 · Dec 2025 distribution zone	13,500+
R2 · Jun 18 swing high (30-day high)	12,930
R1 · Today's session high	12,650

S3 · Breakout-retest zone (May–Jun base)	11,400–11,600
S4 · Major structural floor	10,800–11,100

Positional Trade Setup

Entry zone	12,000 – 12,300	Current zone or slight further pullback
Stop loss	Below 11,600	Close basis — below Jun 9–12 consolidation
Target 1	12,900	+4.6% from entry midpoint (12,150) — swing high
Target 2	13,700	+11.1% — Dec 2025 distribution zone
Risk	~550 pts (~4.5%)	From entry midpoint 12,150 to SL 11,600
R:R	1:1.4 / 1:2.8	To Target 1 / Target 2 respectively

Technical Signals

Bullish signals • +34% recovery from Mar 9 low intact • Above 20-day SMA (price +539 pts) • RSI ~62 — bullish momentum zone • Jun 15–17 rally on high volume (1.7M) • Higher-lows structure in place • May 13 reversal candle held (2.69M vol)	Neutral / watch • 3-day pullback from 12,930 • Today gap-up open but fading • Current volume ~503K below avg • Dec 2025 highs (14,500+) far off • Broader market direction key	Risk factors • Break below 11,600 = trend fail • Multiple failed recoveries Jan–Mar • High beta — intraday swings 5–8% • Still -15% from Dec 2025 highs • Earnings-related downside risk

Volume Analysis — Key Events

Date	Volume	Close	Move	Signal
Dec 10, 2025	974K	12,351	-8.6%	Crash day — earnings shock
Dec 29-30	1.3M ea	11,767	-2.4%	Heavy institutional selling
Mar 10, 2026	2.03M	10,908	+11%	Monster reversal — low confirmed
May 13, 2026	2.69M	11,124	+9.7%	Second reversal — trend change
Jun 16, 2026	1.09M	12,235	+2.4%	Breakout continuation
Jun 17, 2026	1.69M	12,833	+4.9%	Strong institutional buying

Summary Verdict

Bullish — Dip-buy opportunity. Dixon is in a clear intermediate uptrend from the Mar 9 low of 9,630. The current 3-day pullback from 12,930 (–4.6%) is low-volume and constructive. The 20-day SMA at 11,797 and the Jun 15 breakout zone (11,957) provide a strong demand area. Initiating a positional long in the 12,000–12,300 zone with a stop below 11,600 offers a favourable 1:1.4 to 1:2.8 risk-reward ratio. Watch for a volume-backed close above 12,930 as confirmation for the next leg to 13,500+.

3. HCL Technologies (HCLTECH) — Positional Analysis

Stock Snapshot

LTP 1,130.5 -0.1%	6M High 1,729 Jan 28, 2026	6M Low 1,089 Jun 11, 2026
From High -34.6% 5-month decline	RSI (14) ~25 Deeply oversold	vs 20-SMA -26 pts SMA = 1,157

Price Story — 6 Months

Phase	Period	Price Range	Description
-------	--------	-------------	-------------

1 — Late peak	Dec 2025 – Jan 2026	1,630 → 1,729	Ranged 1,630–1,730. Hit 6M high of 1,729 on Jan 28. Looked range-bound.
2 — First leg down	Feb 2026	1,729 → 1,322	Feb 4 results shock (-6%). Feb 12–13 crash on 7M+ vol. Feb 24 capitulation.
3 — Dead-cat range	Mar – Apr 21, 2026	1,297 – 1,475	Choppy stabilization for 7 weeks. Looked like a base but was just consolidation.
4 — Earnings crash	Apr 22, 2026	1,441 → 1,285	33.1M volume in a single day (-10.8%). Worst single-day sell event. New lows.
5 — Drift to lows	May 12 – Jun 11, 2026	1,194 → 1,089	Gradual bleed to 6M low of 1,089. May 29 high-vol up-close (12.4M) was a sign of interest.
6 — Failed bounce	Jun 16 – Jun 22, 2026	1,089 → 1,130	Jun 16 bought on 8.3M vol (+3.6%) — promising. Jun 19 sold back on 10.0M vol (-2.6%).

Key Institutional Volume Events

Date	Volume	Close	Move	Event / Signal
Feb 24, 2026	10.0M	1,339	-6.1%	Capitulation — first major flush
Apr 22, 2026	33.1M	1,285	-10.8%	Earnings crash — defining event. Institutions fled.

Key Levels

R4 · Jan 28, 2026 cycle peak	1,729
R3 · Jun 2 swing high / Apr 2026 zone	1,257
R2 · 20-day SMA (price below = bearish)	1,157
R1 · Jun 16–17 resistance zone	1,160–1,174
CMP (Last Traded Price)	1,130.5
S1 · Today's session low	1,127
S2 · Jun 11 multi-month low — key floor	1,089
S3 · Psychological / next support	1,000–1,050

Trade Setup Options

Stance	AVOID fresh longs	Primary trend is down. Do not fight the tape.
Entry zone	1,090 – 1,130	Tactical oversold bounce only (not positional)
Stop loss	Below 1,085	Below Jun 11 multi-month low
Target 1	1,200 – 1,250	+6–11% — quick tactical bounce target
Risk	~40–45 pts (~3.5%)	From entry midpoint to stop
R:R	1:1.5 – 1:1.7 max	Poor R:R for a downtrend stock — use small size

Reversal confirmation trigger: Buy only on a close ABOVE 1,260 on volume >5M. This would break the lower-highs pattern and confirm a trend change. Target 1,350–1,400 on a confirmed reversal trade.

Technical Signals

Potential positives • RSI ~25 = deeply oversold • Jun 11 low (1,089) holding so far • May 29 high-vol up-close (12.4M) • Possible double-bottom forming • IT sector relative defensiveness	Concerns • Below 20-day SMA (price –26 pts) • Below 50-day SMA (est. ~1,350) • Jun 16 bounce fully reversed • Jun 19 heavy selling on 10M vol • No confirmed base formed yet	Red flags • Apr 22 earnings crash (33M vol) • -34.6% from Jan 28 peak • Every rally sold into heavily • Lower highs + lower lows intact • Break of 1,089 targets 1,000

Summary Verdict

Bearish — Avoid positional longs. HCLTECH is in a confirmed primary downtrend, down 34.6% from its Jan 2026 peak. The Apr 22 earnings crash on 33M volume was the defining institutional exit event, and every subsequent bounce has been sold into with high volume (Jun 16 bounce reversed on Jun 19 at 10M volume). While RSI at ~25 signals extreme oversold conditions and a tactical bounce is possible near the Jun 11 low of 1,089, this is NOT a positional long setup. Wait for a confirmed close above 1,260 on strong volume before considering a positional entry. Until then, stay on the sidelines or use only small size for the tactical bounce.
